Trivia Tuesday

Think You're Smarter Than a Doctor?

Sure, they go through years of specialized schooling and residency, but you probably know more, right? See how many of these medical terms you can match to their definition!
1) A weakened version of a disease given to a person so that they form an immunity to that disease.
2) A bone that is broken, but not all the way through.
3) One of the bones of the spine.
4) Having to do with the heart.
5) A disease caused by a harmful mutation in the body's cells.
6) A machine that assists a patient in breathing.
7) The part of the blood that causing clots.
8) Removing toxins from the blood like the kidney does.
9) The act of removing a part of the body.
10) A bruise.
11) A traumatic brain injury from a blow to the head.
12) A family of viruses that includes SARS and Covid-19
13) High blood pressure.
14) The bones in the fingers and toes.
15) The inside of the skull
16) Nearsightedness
17) One of the muscles in the bottom part of the leg
18) The organ that makes insulin
19) The main chemical used by the stomach in digestion
20) A hyperactive immune response to a substance.
Think You’re Smarter Than a Doctor?

Answers

1) Vaccine
2) Fracture
3) Vertebrae
4) Cardio
5) Cancer
6) Respirator
7) Platelet
8) Dialysis
9) Amputation
10) Contusion
11) Concussion
12) Coronavirus
13) Hypertension
14) Phalanges
15) Cranium
16) Myopia
17) Hamstring
18) Pancreas
19) Hydrochloric Acid
20) Allergy