Board Discussion

- Bond Vote Amount and Date

The Finance Committee has received from the library's bond advisor Noah Nadelman the scope of the potential tax impact of the various work proposals. The Committee has reviewed these estimates, and the BOT discussed the importance of coming to agreement on a total bond amount that is both realistic and necessary to complete the required work. The BOT decided that $30 million is the appropriate bond amount. The target date for the bond was also discussed. Coordination of all aspects of work project between the various contractors – Lothrop, SGH, and Calgi – and the BOT was also discussed.

- Trustee Handbook Book Club - <https://midhudson.org/trusteebookclub/>

The BOT discussed the importance that all members of the BOT review the above online program. Those who attended noted that the training addressed important areas of interest to the BOT.

- Treasurer

The BOT discussed the importance of engaging the Library's Treasurer with both the bond vote and building project finances, and for day-to-day financial matters.

- Checks Warrant Procedures

The BOT discussed implementing a new procedure for the BOT to review Library checks that will be more consistent with generally accepted procedures, as outlined in continuing education trainings attended by BOT members. This new procedure will also involve engagement with the Library's Treasurer.

- Friends/Foundation Agreement

The BOT reviewed sample Memorandums of Understanding (MOUs) obtained by BOT members at continuing education trainings. The BOT discussed the potential use of these to clarify and formalize the agreements between the OPL and the Friends/Foundation.

- Discussion about Committee Meetings

The BOT discussed consolidating Committee Meetings that may contain overlapping matters of interest, for example Buildings and Grounds and the Finance Committee related to the building project and bond, and cancelling Committee Meetings if it is determined that no new pressing business matters are at hand.
